

Sinclair Broadcast Group's recent actions have been a fair and proper reaction to balance the flagrant Democratic slant the liberal network media has taken. Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. It is doing just that.

When large companies such as ABC, NBC, and CBS control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something produced to report the news, they seize the opportunity to forward their own political agenda at the detriment of the truth.

Sinclair's actions are admirable and balance what the public sees in a way not recently seen. They are to be commended. Thank you.
